

The Financial Conduct Authority requires us to give you this important information to help you to decide whether our General Investment Account is right for you. You should read this document carefully so that you understand what you are buying, and then keep it safe for future reference.

This document and our other literature is available in the Key Information section of the P1 Platform.

We do not provide or offer financial, legal or tax advice. You should seek your own financial, legal or tax advice from a financial adviser or another suitably qualified professional.

Its aims

- To allow you, with advice from your financial adviser, to invest over the medium to long term.
- To allow you, with or (where permitted) without the advice of your financial adviser, to select and purchase a wide range of investments.
- To allow you a consolidated view of your Investments available via the P1 Platform.

Your commitment

- The minimum amount to open a General Investment Account is £25.
- You are required to maintain a minimum cash balance to meet charges.
- You should view your General Investment Account as a medium to long term investment, which means it should normally be held for a minimum of five years.
- You must keep your login and other security details private and not share them with others. We will take all instructions placed using your security details in good faith that they were placed by you.

Risks

Different investments carry different levels of risk. You must seek financial advice on the suitability of an investment. The value of your investments and the income generated from them can fall as well as rise and you may not get back what you originally invested or transferred into your Investment Account.

Past performance of any investment is not a guide to future performance.

The performance of your investments will be reduced by the effect of charges, including our charges, and fund manager charges. Income generating funds sometimes deduct expenses from capital in order to improve income. This means that capital growth may reduce accordingly. Withdrawing income from your General Investment Account can reduce your capital especially where performance is poor and the level of income withdrawn is high.

Certain investments for example 'emerging markets', 'technology sector' and 'small companies' are generally more volatile than UK and large company investments. Investments into property funds can be difficult to sell. You might not be able to sell them when you want. The value of property is a matter of opinion rather than fact.

Investments in foreign assets are subject to currency risk, i.e. as well as the risk of the underlying asset there is also a risk of a loss from exchange rate variations against the pound sterling.

Inflation will reduce the real value and therefore what you could buy with your investments in future.

Tax treatment depends upon your individual circumstances and the rules may change in the future.

If you opt to cancel after making a contribution or transfer from another provider within the cancellation period, you could get back less than you invested. If you cancel a transfer from another provider to us, the other provider may refuse to accept the return of the transfer money. If this happens, you should discuss the options you have with your financial adviser.

This is held in your General Investment Account. Your General Investment Account is designed to hold cash ready for investing and to meet service charges. Cash may arise from a sale instruction and from dividends or income received but your General Investment Account should not be considered as a long-term savings account.

What happens to income from the investments in my General Investment Account?

Income from investments in your General Investment Account will be added to the cash balance in your General Investment Account.

What charges do I have to pay?

Please refer to the Charges Schedule available on the P1 Platform for more details.

Financial Adviser charges will be agreed between you and your financial adviser. Your adviser may give you an illustration, which will confirm the amount of initial and ongoing charges for their services to you.

We will confirm to you in writing the amount of any initial and ongoing charges payable to your financial adviser so you can be sure that you have agreed to the charges we will apply.

P1 Platform charges

The P1 Platform charges an annual percentage charge based on a daily value of the cash and assets held. This is subject to a minimum (annual monthly) amount and will be deducted monthly in arrears.

Standard dealing charges:

Charges for trades in equities and ETFs only. These will be deducted at the time of the trade and detailed on your contract note.

There is a charge on transfer away from the P1 Platform.

In addition, fund managers will apply charges to your chosen investments. Your financial adviser will tell you the amount of such charges. These charges are normally deducted from the fund value.

What could I get back?

The amount you get back will depend on the following factors:

How much you invest; the performance of your investments; any charges; any tax applied e.g. to income or gains; any income or withdrawals you have taken; and the terms and conditions of your investment.

What is the tax position for my General Investment Account?

The General Investment Account is not tax-exempt. The tax you pay will depend on the types of investments that you hold and your personal circumstances. The tax liability for growth and income from your investments is the same as if you held them in your own name and is your responsibility. If you need to complete a tax return, you should include details of the income from the investments in your General Investment Account and, the gains or losses on investments you have sold. We will send you a tax voucher each year to help you complete your tax return.

Income tax

Depending on your personal circumstances you may be able to reclaim some of the tax deducted from HMRC or you may have further tax to pay. This will depend on the amount of interest and other savings income you receive, and the rate of tax you normally pay. You may need to pay income tax on income arising from investments, including income tax on interest arising from 'available cash', held in your General Investment Account. HMRC sets an annual Dividend Allowance that means you will not have to pay tax on any dividend income on or below this level. If you receive more dividend income than the annual Dividend Allowance you will have further tax to pay. You can find out the current Dividend Allowance at www.gov.uk/hmrc

Capital gains tax

If any investment in your General Investment Account is sold, for example for a withdrawal, to switch into another investment or to cover a charge, tax may be due on any gain that arises. How much tax is payable, will depend on your individual circumstances. Please note that tax rules are applied according to individual circumstances and may change in the future.

How do I withdraw my money?

If you are holding cash within your General Investment Account, and subject to the minimum cash balance requirement, you can withdraw any amount at any time. Your adviser will arrange the withdrawal and the money will be paid into your nominated bank account. If you need to sell investments to make a cash withdrawal, charges may apply to the sale. It is your responsibility to make sure there is enough cash in your General Investment Account (for example by selling investments) to make any withdrawals you request.

Can I close my General Investment Account at any time?

Yes. You should discuss this with your adviser who will make the arrangements on your behalf. Charges may apply to any related sale or transfer of investments but we will make no charge to close your General Investment Account, although we will apply the pro-rata amount of the current month's administration charge. Please refer to the Charges Schedule available on the P1 Platform for more details.

Can I change my mind?

You are able to cancel your General Investment Account up to 30 days after you complete your application online (your 'cooling off period'). However, if you have asked us to invest your cash within the cooling off period, you will only be able to cancel your initial General Investment Account agreement and any investments will be sold and the proceeds returned to you at their market value, less any dealing or fund manager charges. You may choose to keep your General Investment Account in cash for the 30 days of your cooling off period, and if you then decide to cancel your General Investment Account during this period, you will receive back the original amount.

What happens if I die?

If you die, your personal representatives must close the General Investment Account. On receiving appropriate proof of title, we will pay them the balance together with any interest earned up to the date we close the General Investment Account, or if requested, we will transfer the General Investment Account investments to them. The balance will take into account any gain or loss in the value of your investments.

The proceeds from your General Investment Account will form part of your estate for inheritance tax purposes.
